FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

What Every Believer Needs to Know to Experience Financial Freedom

Vancouver, WA, April 27, 2022 — Should people take financial advice from the Bible? There's actually more talk about wealth management in the Bible than almost any other topic.

"All of us, regardless of our financial situation, can use what God has provided even when we find ourselves with less to spend because of commitments, payments, a crisis, or job change," pastor and author Scott LaPierre writes in his new book, Your Finances God's Way. "God knows what you should and shouldn't do with your finances, and He has provided you with the needed instructions in His Word."

Since he got married, LaPierre has supported his family, which includes nine children, on a single salary while remaining debt-free. He's witnessed the stress that accompanies financial insecurity, yet he's learned firsthand that even those with a limited income can eliminate monetary worries when they abide by biblical principles.

In Your Finances God's Way, LaPierre helps readers replace negative spending habits with positive patterns that will set them on the road to financial freedom.

Drawing from the Bible's wisdom on money management, LaPierre's book provides essential steps backed by proven practices to help readers:

- Get the most out of their money by paying off debt and building up savings
- Make informed spending choices that help avoid anxiety, regret and conflict
- Enjoy the fruits of money management in a way that honors God

"Use what God has provided to thrive!" LaPierre says. "Whether you're young or old, married or single, working or staying at home, Your Finances God's Way will give you everything you need to be a Christlike steward of the resources you've been given."

A companion workbook, LaPierre's Your Finances God's Way Workbook, takes readers even deeper into the Bible's financial wisdom and provides thoughtful questions for self-reflection; illuminating verses from Scripture; and helpful guidelines for creating a personalized strategy for spending, saving, giving and paying off debt.

"As believers, part of living out the call in 1 Corinthians 6:12 to 'not be dominated by anything' means making sure that we are in control of our spending, and not the other way around," LaPierre adds. "This workbook will give you the tools you need to take charge of your money, find peace with your finances, and use every resource God has given you for His glory."
